

Below are community resources and contact persons related to concerns that were brought up at the Boulevard Neighborhood Association public safety meeting in September 2023. If you have an emergency situation or concern about someone's safety or well-being, you can always call 911 or the ACCPD non-emergency line at your discretion (706-613-3345).

Issue	Community contact person	Organization	Additional info
Neighborhood general safety concerns; follow up on incidents or other information	Lieutenant Joseph D. Geiger Phone: 762-400-7097 Cell: 706-255-7505 Email: joe.geiger@accgov.com	ACCPD
Homeless individuals or encampments	John Morris (he/him), THRIVE Community Programs team lead Cell: 762.234.6535; Email: John.Morris@advantagebhs.org	Advantage Behavioral Health Systems 240 North Avenue	Agencies working within the homeless community meet frequently with police officers and collaborate to address issues. Camping on public property is not allowed and, of course, private property owners can always call 911 about any unauthorized camping on their property
Mental or behavioral health concerns	Sgt. Robie Cochran Phone: 762-400-7163 Email: Robie.Cochran@accgov.com For immediate concerns, call 911.	ACCPD Behavioral Health Unit	The Behavioral Health Unit is composed of co-responder teams. Each team consists of a sworn ACCPD officer who is paired with a mental health clinician, staffed by Advantage Behavioral Health Systems.
Noise concerns	911 or ACCPD non emergency line: 706-613-3345	ACCPD	In order to have a residence or business cited in violation of the noise ordinance, you should ask to meet with an officer and request a citation. The officer will need to come to your residence to observe the noise level.

Traffic safety concerns	Sgt. Bob Schulte, ACCPD Traffic Division Phone: 762-400-7093 Email: Robert.Schulte@accgov.com	ACCPD Traffic Division	The traffic division has the authority to clock speeds on roads that have a county speed permit, which in our area are typically larger volume streets (EG, Prince, Chase) while most of our smaller connecting streets are not on county speed permits. This means officers cannot clock cars for speeding; however, they offered that what they can do are traffic control studies and visual estimations of speed which can be used to cite drivers for running stop signs and speeding. If you are concerned about the safety of an intersection or roadway, please file a traffic complaint.
